"I suffered with PTSD due to some horrific years of child abuse. A close friend went with me to camp for PTSD week. It was a very scary thing for me to get up enough courage to go! Just going was my first victory! Instead of pills or self-pity, I learned of solutions for my problems in the Bible. My life has been greatly changed for the better. Now I can help others who suffer. I recommend you come to PTSD week at camp."
Mary, an abuse survivor

"I am a pastor who attended camp so I could better counsel others in my community. The Lord not only used this new knowledge to help me grow, He also added several families through a PTSD ministry. I recommend this training to all pastors and church leaders."
Pastor Jacob

"I am a former Army Ranger with deployments to Iraq and Afghanistan. I tried twice to commit suicide prior to camp. While at camp, I saw my need for a Savior and a church. I was saved and began working on my life. The lessons I learned at camp helped me save my marriage and I become stable enough to get a job. The lessons seemed written just for me. I was amazed that among the people at camp, we had a teenage girl who was raped, a mother who spent years being abused, and a veteran with a prosthetic leg. The Lord used everyone to change my life. Camp is cleaner than an Army base and the people every bit as professional. Go as soon as you can and find God's plan for your life. I wish I would have went sooner."
George, an Army Ranger
